

FOIAb3b

CPYRGHT

DISTINGUISHED CIVILIANS

President Johnson chats with winners of Distinguished Civilian Service Awards yesterday in the White House garden after presentation of the medals. Recipients are (from left) John Doar, first assistant to the Assistant Attorney General in the Civil Rights Division; Bromley K. Smith, executive secretary of the National Security Council; Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, jr., executive director-controller of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Herbert Friedman, superintendent of the Atmosphere and